

Faculty of Nursing CPE

Final Assessment

For Reem Boudali, by Jayne Rajaratnam

Submitted March 28, 2020.

Details

Summary of progress (Discuss concepts identified in the course, learning plan progress, skills)

Reem you excel at acquiring knowledge and understanding on how everything "fits together". You have already begun to apply what you have learned in your theory classes and is beginning to identify how it relates to your clinical experience. You are usually the first amongst your peer group to answer questions about foundational theoretical concepts. You are not afraid to share your knowledge with others and is not fearful of being incorrect. You place great value on knowledge brokering amongst your peers as you very much enjoyed the presentations of learning goal #1 from your peers. Due to this love of learning your confidence has grown exponentially and you have really taken advantage of completing thorough and clinical worksheets. You are very much a team player and enjoy working with others, you enjoy shadowing your primary nurses and has an interest in how all the interdisciplines work together for the betterment of the client. This new found confidence has allowed you to be more comfortable meeting new individuals, creating therapeutic relationships with your clients, and collaborative connections with your peers. You have a positive disposition and now feels a sense of accomplishment as you have been able to perform a cardiac and respiratory assessment with minimal coaching from your instructor. Great job Reem!

*Due to the fact that our semester was shortened by 1 shift and was unable to perform GI assessment your progress will be indicated as IP (In Progress)

Strengths (Things you did well consistently):

- you are mature and responsible
- on time with all of your assignments and usually have them submitted before the due date
- professional and accountable
- active listener
- detailed and thorough worksheets where you have begun to identify relationships between your clients diagnoses
- you are calm and approachable
- you are driven by integrity and honesty
- you are non judgemental
- you have begun your journey of self reflection and can now write about this in your reflective journals
- you are a great presenter of learning goal #1

Areas for Improvement/Growth (Things you need to work on): Must be addressed in your learning plan for the next clinical experience

- continue to make connections with your clients diagnoses and understand how they impact each other by writing a relationship paragraph on your clinical worksheet
- continue to master your assessment skills so that you are proficient
- pay close attention to what your client is saying, this will help you to prioritize your clients needs (section 3 of worksheet)
- begin to evaluate your clients emotional and mental health
- begin to listen to how your primary nurses give report
- begin to use your clients interdisciplinary charts

Status

Created	March 28, 2020, 9:04 p.m.
Submitted	March 28, 2020, 9:24 p.m.
Author	Jayne Rajaratnam
Other signer	Reem Boudali
Other signed	March 29, 2020, 4:15 a.m.

Comments and change history

March 28, 2020 Document submitted by Jayne Rajaratnam.

March 29, 2020 Document signed by Reem Boudali.